QB battle

By DONNIE SWINEY

And down the stretch they come. Heading into the Sept. 8 season opener at Morehead State, Scott Campbell is leading the quarterback race. But Brian Browning is not far behind.

Campbell, a 6-4, 190-pound senior from Gulf Breeze, Fla., has the job, according to Coach Jack Harbaugh.

"Scott hasn't done anything that would make us think he's not our quarterback," the second-year coach said. "He's the guy we plan to start against Morehead."

Campbell, who transferred to Western from The Citadel, completed over 53 percent of his passes (49 of 92) for 572 yards and three touchdowns in seven games last season. He started three times.

Campbell may have the job now, but also knows he could lose it at any time.

"If I don't perform well, all the quarterbacks - all the way down to the freshmen - could jump in there and get the job done," he said. "By no means do I have this job locked up."

Toppers take to the field against the Morehead State Eagles at Morehead, Sept. 8, 6 p.m. CDT.

To be successful, Campbell said he must make smart decisions.

"I have to rely on making the right decisions when I'm out there," he said. "Because if I make a wrong decision, I don't have the athletic ability to make up for it like some guys do. And I've got to learn to read some defenses better."

Sometimes, love is not lost between two players battling for a starting job - especially the quarterback spot - but not in this case.

"We've been friends for a long time," Browning said. "We were roommates for a year and we're fraternity brothers. So, we see each other quite a bit."

"The competition has some effect, but we never have any problems anyway."

"All the quarterbacks help each other. I try to watch them and let them know what they're doing wrong and I expect them to do the same for me."

Browning, a 6-4, 210-pounder from Brownsville, sat out last year with a broken foot and hasn't played in a game in at least two years, when he transferred from Louisville.

"Brian is probably getting more opportunity to work this fall than he has since he's been here," Harbaugh said. "He's made mistakes, but he's shown an awareness for those mistakes and has attempted to eliminate them."

"I feel comfortable with the fundamental part of it," Browning said. "Now it's just instilling confidence in the team and coaching staff that I can do the job."

"They help each other after every play and coach each other in a positive way," Harbaugh said, "and that's healthy."

Soccer team works out kinks

By L. B. KISTLER

Rusty Stuff.

Two words that Western soccer coach David Holmes used to describe his team after Friday night's 4-0 win over the visiting Kentucky soccer club.

Two words that Holmes said he hopes will no longer apply to his team when the Tops open their season in the annual Kick-Off Tournament at Smith Stadium this weekend.

"It's still too early to tell" about how the team will do this season, Holmes said.

"There will be lots of traveling and tough games in our conference. It's the most difficult schedule we've had since I came here in '84."

Old Dominion and Virginia Commonwealth, both road games, will be two of the toughest games, Holmes said.

Holmes said he feels his team has what it takes to compete.

"We have good leadership, plus a healthy blend of skilled and hard-nosed players," he said. "We're more mature."

Holmes returns 10 of 11 starters off a team that was 13-5-1 last season.

Holmes will look to tri-Captain Mark Freer, Chris Poulos and Paul Newton to provide leadership.

Freer, a junior goalkeeper from Owensboro, was named MVP of the 1989 Corvette Classic Tournament and looks to get starting time at the net again this season.

Poulos, a Bowling Green senior goalkeeper, is returning to the squad after being red-shirted last season because of a knee injury. Poulos said he feels he is in good health and ready for the new season.

Newton, a junior from Amantimoti, South Africa, and last season's team MVP Brian Hall will provide an experienced midfield for the Tops.

Hall, a junior from Heidelberg, West Germany, was named to the All-Sun Belt and All-Mideast Region second teams last season.

Another experienced player is last season's leading scorer Chris Hutchinson.

The junior from Nashville led the Tops with 14 goals as a forward last season. The All-Sun Belt Conference player may see more passing than scoring time this season as Holmes experiments with moving him from the striker position to halfback.

Defensive leader Rory Lithgow, an All-Sun Belt and All-Mideast Region second teams stand-out returns at sweeper.

Joining Holmes' veterans will be several new faces. Among them are four younger brothers of current and former Western soccer players.

One such recruit is Kevin Hall, younger brother of former captain Lanny and current player Brian.

Kevin was selected as one of the top 30 under-18 players in Germany while playing for American High School.

"I think the younger players are coming along great," Brian Hall said. "They know our style and how we play."

Holmes said he thought the new recruits did well against Kentucky.

"We're about where I expected us to be at this point," he said. "We're coming along better than any other team I've coached at Western because of our experience and young talent."

"We're ready to raise our level of play," Freer said. "This is a season for us to move up. This is the year to put it all together."

Hulsmeyer has high expectations for season

By MARSHA BURTON

For new volleyball coach Jeff Hulsmeyer, the 1990 season looks promising.

"I have high expectations this season," Hulsmeyer said. "The girls know I expect a lot out of them. It can be seen in practices where they really have picked up their intensity."

The Tops will need some of that intensity to improve upon last season's 10-25 mark.

Western returns 12 of 14 players, including four seniors who hope to pick up where they left off — a third-place finish in the Sun Belt Conference Tournament.

Hulsmeyer said he thinks the four seniors on the squad will give the team a lot more leadership.

"We're an older and more experienced team, and I do believe we will do better," he said.

About three-fourths of the teams on the schedule are ranked higher than the Toppers, but Hulsmeyer is optimistic about the coming season.

"I think it's wide open this year and we have a good chance of surprising some people," he said.

The Tops open the season against Louisville and Morehead State and are scheduled to play the University of Kentucky, who is nationally ranked, and at the Florida International Tournament in Miami.

However, the squad is solid this season with the 12 players that return.

One of the key returners will be Louisville sophomore Michelle Mingus, who was a member of the All-Sun Belt Conference first team last season.

"Mingus plays a large role to our offense and our team," Hulsmeyer said.

The defense is the strong point of this year's squad.

"We play a very good, hustling defense," he said.

With such a strong defense, Hulsmeyer feels that the team must concentrate more on its offense and playing a more solid team game to win.

"There is something different about the team," Hulsmeyer said. "I'm really surprised about how well they have made the transition over to my style of coaching.

"I think they are excited about being pushed. I challenge them a lot on the court."

Another key player will be Louisville senior Meghan Kelly, who broke her arm last season, but has fully recuperated.

"She has had some problems with her wrist," Hulsmeyer said. "She's fine as far as being back and ready to play."

Sophomore wins golf tournament

Herald staff report

P. J. McDougal, a transfer from the University of Louisville, won the Franklin Invitational Golf Tournament earlier this month.

McDougal birdied the final hole of the tournament to edge former Western standout Jeff Guest by a single stroke.

McDougal, a Bowling Green sophomore, said that he transferred to Western because he wanted to play under Coach Lee Robertson and assistant coach Norman Head.

He said the fact that his family still lives here also weighed heavily in his decision.

Change good for young Tops

By DONNIE SWINEY

Change is healthy.

At least Western football coach Jack Harbaugh thinks so.

Despite losing 23 players from last year's 6-5 team, Harbaugh is encouraged by the 30 returning lettermen, which include 11 seniors.

Even with 23 seniors last season, Harbaugh said, "We didn't have good leadership.

"We had a lot of selfish players on our team last year, and most of them were seniors" who were more interested in developing pro careers than helping the team.

With those players gone, Western's young squad is led by senior All-America candidates Don Smith, Eddie Godfrey, Raji Gordon and Todd Davis.

Smith, a 5-10, 185-pound tailback from Harrodsburg, should lead Western offensively since becoming the third player in Western history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season. Last fall, he rushed for 1,005 yards on 221 carries.

Smith, who has been plagued by a shoulder injury throughout his career, said if he stays healthy he could run for more than 1,000 yards again.

"I'm just going to go out there and play and do whatever I can to help the team," he said. "And if the team comes together, we could have a real good offense."

Defensively, the Toppers are led by Godfrey, a 5-9, 180-pound cornerback from Lakeland, Fla., who Harbaugh said has the best shot of any Western player to make the pros.

Godfrey, Western's fastest player with a 4.3-second clocking in 40 yards, averaged 23.5 yards as a kickoff returner.

He had 39 tackles and one interception, which he returned 83 yards for a touchdown against Tennessee Tech. He also returned a kickoff 99 yards for a score against Murray State.

Gordon, a 6-2, 210-pound linebacker from Atlanta, had 29 tackles and one fumble recovery in his first year at Western after transferring from Florida.

Gordon, who was hampered by injuries late in the season, is being moved from defensive end to linebacker.

Davis, a 5-11, 195-pound punter, averaged 38.3 yards per kick last year and has a career average of 37.8.

Graduation took a healthy bite out of Western's defense, leaving six vacant spots, but the Tops fill the vacancies with size.

Other than senior Brad Thomas, a 6-0, 220-pound nose guard, the defensive line is stacked with mammoth-sized players in junior ends Chris Brooks, Mark Vrbas and Anthony Cooper.

Brooks comes in at 6-7, 240 pounds, Vrbas measures 6-5 and 230, and Cooper, at 6-6, weighs in at 245 pounds.

With the graduation of linebackers Zip Zanders and Russell Foster, an All-American, one might think the Toppers could be in trouble.

But not Harbaugh. He said he plans to play several players at linebacker since "our linebacker corps is deep."

Harbaugh said Derrick Wilson and Gordon will see plenty of action at linebacker.

Godfrey, Melvin Johnson and Larry Harris stepped in and helped the secondary last season and will start this year, along with Joe Lee Johnson.

"Our secondary will be much improved over last year, since we got the right people in there," Harbaugh said.

Offensively, reserve tailback Herb Davis (5-11, 185) and starting fullback Morris Green (6-3, 220) will aid the running corps.

But who will block up front remains a question with Harbaugh.

"We're nicked in our offensive line right now," Harbaugh said.

Milt Biggins, a 6-2, 240-pound junior tight end from Chicago replaces Robert Coates after pulling in 14 catches for 73 yards and a touchdown last season.

David Browning (6-4, 255) and Chandler Wallace (6-3, 263) will be mainstays on the "depleted" offensive line, Harbaugh said.

Scott Campbell (6-4, 190) and Brian Browning (6-4, 210) are battling for the starting quarterback spot, but Campbell has the edge at this point.

Change had better be good as Western plays four teams that made it to the Division I-AA playoffs last season — at Middle Tennessee State (Sept. 22), Eastern Kentucky (Sept. 29), Youngstown State (Oct. 6) and at Eastern Illinois (Nov. 3).

Toppers return top runners of Sun Belt

By BRIAN DAUGHERTY

Western's cross country teams have several things in common.

Both the men's and women's teams are young and short on depth.

Both also have the top returning runners in the Sun Belt Conference — junior Mary Dwyer and senior Stephen Gibbons.

There are differences, however. The women, defending the Sun Belt Conference title, lost only Mairead Looney from last season and have a little more experience than the men, said Coach Curtiss Long, who is beginning his 11th season at Western.

The men, on the other hand, are young. Gibbons is the only senior, and five of the top six runners, including All-American Sean Dollman, are sophomores.

Gibbons won the Sun Belt Conference championship last year with a course record of 24:35. He and Dollman, who finished 15th in the NCAA National Championships last season in 30:13, will fill the leadership role for the men's team.

"We have the luxury of returning the top two people from the Sun Belt," Long said. "That should give us a double shot of leadership."

That will be needed, especially with the graduation of Victor Ngubeni and Michael Lutz.

"Replacing that level of consistency will be difficult," Long said.

Dwyer's winning time of 18:33 in the Sun Belt meet was only two seconds behind Looney's course record.

Dwyer, junior Breeda Dennehy and sophomore Michelle Murphy will be the top three runners for the women.

Long said that Looney's loss will be felt more depth-wise.

"Anytime you have a loss, that's a door closing, but you have one opening," he said.

Depth will come from senior Candy Reid and junior Kathleen Clark. "We feel very confident in their abilities to run," Long said.

Long said the men will battle defending champion South Florida for the Sun Belt title, while he expects the women to fight South Florida, South Alabama and UNC-Charlotte for the title.

Tops won't be playing UT-Martin

Herald staff report

For those who checked the football game with Tennessee-Martin Saturday in their Abacus as one way of filling their three-day weekend — erase it.

The Abacus, a datebook published by Delta Sigma Pi, listed the game from a tentative schedule in May.

"There is no game," said Athletic Director Jimmy Feix, since Tennessee-Martin "was not on the approved schedule."

Arnold gets coaching job

Herald staff report

Former Western basketball coach Murray Arnold has left for Germany where he will coach the Bayreuth team in Division 1 of the West German professional league.

Arnold, who resigned as coach of the Hilltoppers March 7, replaces Les Haebegger, who retired.

Toppers are young, but experienced

By BART SUMMAR

The women's golf team is young, but that doesn't bother Coach Kathy Teichert.

"This is one of the best recruiting years we've had since I've been here," Teichert said.

Five freshmen, two sophomores and one junior make up the roster.

But Teichert, who is in her fifth year at Western, said they have a great deal of experience.

One of her top recruits is South African Liesl Diedericks, who has played in tournaments across the United States as well as her homeland.

Another freshman, Chanda McCreese, brings the team tournament experience. She led her team at Martin County High School in Stuart, Fla., with the lowest scoring average all four years. She won six tournaments, including the 1987 South Florida PGA and the 1988 Optimist World Region V Championship.

Teichert said she is anxious to see how the new players will adjust to golf at the collegiate level.

"We've got to get the girls knowing that they can go out and hit it up with anybody," she said. "We will turn some heads. I don't think people will expect us to be as good as we will be."

Western is one of 24 teams scheduled to play in this weekend's Notre Dame Lady Irish Invitational in South Bend, Ind.

The men's golf team, led by new Coach Lee Robertson, will try to build on last year's success.

Robertson took over the head coaching position after the resignation of last season's Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year, Norman Head.

Sophomore Bryan Baysinger said that the transition of coaches has gone smoothly. "Coach Robertson is a really nice guy and knows a whole lot about golf," Baysinger said. "Coach Head is still with the team as an assistant and works with us a lot on our swings."

Senior Eric Hogge, who placed ninth overall and third among amateurs in last week's Kentucky State Open in Louisville, said he was optimistic for improvement over last year's team which finished second in the Sun Belt Tournament.

"We lost Jeff Guest, who was our No. 1 player last year, but we picked up a very strong player in (University of Louisville transfer) P. J. McDougal," Hogge said.

The team is holding qualifying rounds this week to determine positions.
